Very interesting and challenging puzzle game. I like the fact that there were no instructions and it really required you to figure out everything yourself. The game does provide some hints though.. I wouldn't trust these wizards with a watchtower yet, they haven't graduated.. Terrible. I was really looking forward to the passenger view in the viewliner sleeper and the dining car. Also they have REUSED SOUNDS again. The CSX has terrible braking, same with the Amtrak. I have never been more disappointed in a DLC like I am for this. So have played this game a bit before it came to Steam and the results are as follows.

Pros

- Loads of track for driving
- Decent train controls
- Good sounds/ Physics
- Decent price for what it includes

Cons

- Not Great detailing (but it is Early Access)
- Menu Screen is a little bland
- Needs better information screen when driving

Overall pretty good for the price and over time the game will get better due to its Early Access stage.. For some reason I rushed into buying this game simply because I've always wanted a fireworks simulator, and this looked really good from the screenshots and videos. But unfortunately it's just not as good as it makes it out to be. On the simple side, there are overused sounds, quite a limited set of fireworks and it's just simply overall quite a poor design for a simulator - it's more of a worktop or, do I call it a sandbox? On the technical side, it's even worse sadly, it takes up far much more GPU power than it needs to and the way it has been coded makes it hard to edit or even try open back something you've made without it causing errors, even for someone as tech-savvy as me who understands the Windows Registry can't seem to even get it fixed. I had really high hopes for this game when I saw it released on Steam, but disappointed with the outcome even for a $10 game - overall I've spent less and received much better developed games.. This game is very cheap so you should probably get it. It is fun just to calm down when you have had a rough day, so get it then jump on and spam left and right. Truly one of my favorites ever! Love, magic, action and character development, Oh and of course choices. It's all I can ask for, maybe zombies too but that's just wishful thinking.. writing a review doesn't do this VN any justice, but I'm still rating it 10/10 elliot. A very fun and simple game you will have to enjoy alone because you'll be the only person playing it.. Good memories... played this when I was 10.. There's too much DLC for this game. It's abusing the players.

Great Voice Pack for Marines. Very boring and dull game. Maybe fun for 5 year old kids.. Brilliant Best Ever game by Giants Software.
